miners found themselves in agreement on many points.

Nothing was decided with reference to disarmament. It was said, however, that the conciliatory attitude on this subject will continue.

With reference to a possible Italian-German bloc to offset French and Russian blocs, the French and British leaders said no such step is being planned.

The conversation between Lillie and Mussolini began after a luncheon at the golf club on the Lido. They were alone as they conversed and talked in German.

Well-informed Italian representatives themselves as greatly disappointed with Thursday's conversation between the two leaders on the ground Hitler had proved himself to still a visionary, while Mussolini, essentially a realist, wanted to get down to cases immediately.

Today's discussion was more concrete.

Adventurers Take 150 Pound Cheese North

Every Luxury of Civilization Accompanies Bedouin Party Into Wilds

By RUTH E. BOWEN

WHAT secrets the smothering silences of the northland are soon to be discovered by M. and Mrs. Charles Boudier of Paris, France, and Miss Alberta Chisholm, who with a party of thirty men will leave Edmonton on July 7 to explore the hinterlands of northern British Columbia. For what the party have done to many a stout British retribution will be paid in full by this party. Explorers and discoverers of history are remembered to have swept down the rivers to the sea, charting virgin lands for Canada. They have been the pioneers of civilization. With the Bedouins of the desert, the Bedouins of the north are being carried right along in the hands of the modern-day explorers. Civilization to the extent of tents and a 150 pound cheese will invade the wilderness.

What the listeners of the north think the silent thought and watching creatures, the shadow-winged birds. The starting of the double two-toned horn on each tractor will crash into the stillness. Powerful headlights will pierce rays of great flood-lamps at the windshield of each car especially designed to hold back the creeping shadows. Until the late hours when all is dark then they will start close to study the great invading gnomes.

With the party goes a representative of the National Geographic magazine to make maps and keep a diary of the trip. A geologist is engaged, wireless men are on hand to beam cameras from the sky and accompanying them to keep a picture record of their adventures. Their French chef is as important a personage as the American physician who will accompany them.

Sponge Cake Is Ideal With Ice Cream

Of all the cakes suitable to serve with fruit and ice cream during the summer months, sponge cake is in some form is quite the most popular and satisfactory.

A true sponge cake contains no leavening such as soda and baking powder. Eggs alone are depended upon for lightness. A acid in the form of cream of tartar or acetic acid (Vinegar) is added for the purpose of stiffening the albumen of the egg whites and to help keep the mixture firm. If eggs should happen to be very fresh their number may be decreased and baking powder added for leavening. Although a cake made in this fashion is not a true sponge, there is little difference in the texture of the finished cake. This granulated sugar does much to produce a fine grained cake.

USE PASTRY FLOUR
 Pastry flour sifted once before measuring should be used. Potato flour makes a very fine grained, moist cake of delicate texture. In using potato flour use only half as much as if you were using pastry flour.

Three day eggs will beat better than fresher ones. If the eggs are well chilled before beating they will hold its shape they are beaten enough.

The yolks should be beaten with a Dover beater until they are thick and lemon colored. This is one of the secrets of sponge cake.

Sponge Cake
 Six eggs, 1 cup pastry flour, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 3 tablespoons boiling water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Who Are You?

Your Children
 BY OLIVE ROBERTS HARTON

"Oh dear, I wonder why the 'dear' doesn't come," sighed Mrs. Brown, looking at her two children, who were sitting on the floor, playing with their blocks. "That's just the way it is," I'll leave you to it. Go and get some more blocks."

"The most common mistake that parents make is to give their children too much freedom. The children feel very sorry for the mother who is always saying, 'Go and get some more blocks.'"

"The children gathered round the telephone. 'Who is it? Who is it?' 'It's the mother!'

"Mrs. Brown dropped into a hall chair shaking and while 'Go and get some more blocks.' 'It's Mrs. Ford. Oh, I hope she'll live. Poor Mrs. Ford. She was so beautiful, so kind, so good. I just can't see it.'"

"Is that the Mrs. Ford that borrowed your hat and got it ruined?" "Yes, that's the one."

"Shut up, baby. Shame on you. You ought to be ashamed, talking that way about a poor, hurt—Oh, look, look, look, there's the first row. See—there, right outside the window. Let's go and look at it."

Relieved, they all trooped out. Mrs. Brown stopping to turn down the gas under the dinner and turning her head with a 'Dear, I am convinced that Louise would be my pillar of the day she was washed.'"

Mrs. Ford heard her. 'I know where they are. There in the back of the house. She washed and turned down the gas. Here's a change of temper. 'Come on, Mum,' shouted Louise. 'Come on out and see the big birds. They're all over everywhere.'"

The first creature to 'greenback' in the United States was one imitating the ten-dollar bill of 1862. It was circulated the same year.

One Husband Just About Driven To Distraction

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have a very nice wife, but she is so busy doing a hundred and one things out of the home that she says she must do or go insane that I nearly drive me into a lunatic asylum. She says there outside interests are necessary for her self-expression, whatever that is. She says she has to have in order that she "may have the fullness of life" and that without them she feels suffocated.

She does a little slap-dash housekeeping, but there are many things she could do to save money and keep the house better. Probably I am selfish to feel that she is playing most of the hours I am working, but I do, and it is killing my incentive to do my best. Is there a solution?
 A. H. W.

Answer:
 The solution is for you and your wife to have a real heart-to-heart talk and try to get each other's point of view as to what each of you really wants. If she does not make you a comfortable home and is not a thrifty manager, she has really failed in her duty. Why not give her an allowance on which to run the house and consider that as long as she keeps within means that she is doing all that you expect of her?

Your idea that it is a woman's duty always to be staying in the kitchen because to a past era when there were no gas ranges and patent mixers and labor-saving devices in the household.

Efficiency has virtually emancipated the housewife, and any intelligent woman with a bit of management about her, can do as much as a couple of hours the labor that it took her mother a whole day to perform.

Many men, accustomed as children to seeing their mothers doing the housework, and any intelligent woman with a bit of management about her, can do as much as a couple of hours the labor that it took her mother a whole day to perform.

Experts Urging Research Of Barley Futures

SPECIAL LAB. IS ADVISEE TO STUDY MALTING ANGLES

Scientific Application Would Speedily Provide Good Market Qualities—Fundamental Study Need

OTTAWA, June 15.—Establishment in Canada of a barley research laboratory and if necessary the importation from Europe of a bio-chemist with special knowledge of malting problem to direct it was recommended by the grain research committee at its meeting.

C. M. Hamilton, member of the board of grain commissioners, Winnipeg, L. D. Wilgus, director of the commercial intelligence service, department of trade and commerce, Ottawa, and C. B. Davidson, of the agricultural branch, Dominion bureau of statistics, sat at the meeting. Representatives of the University of Saskatchewan, the federal department of agriculture, and the National Research Council and Laboratory attended as members of the committee.

QUALITY FOR MARKET
On the basis of quality, it was agreed, Canadian barley would find markets and it was with scientific research that the required quality would be obtained.

The suggestion was made that Canada should proceed with fundamental studies of barley as she had undertaken fundamental studies of wheat.

The committee decided the barley research program for Canada should be divided into 12 projects as follows:

- 1.—Improvement of varieties of barley by breeding.
- 2.—Control of diseases, insects and weeds.
- 3.—Feeding experiments with various classes of farm stock.
- 4.—Zoning the practice provinces with respect to yield and other economic qualities of various varieties.
- 5.—Determining special suitability of different districts and varieties for feeding, malting, distilling and starch production.
- 6.—Effect of environment (including soil and climate) on quality.
- 7.—Studies on grading, from the point of view of the consumer, including the development of a test for foreign barley.
- 8.—Studies to improve knowledge of quality in barley and of methods of malting.
- 9.—Special problems in the malting of Canadian barley and the relation of protein to brewing malting.
- 10.—Studies on the further utilization of malt.
- 11.—Barley as raw material for the production of starch and other products.
- 12.—Investigation of other possible uses of barley.

Not all moral questions can be answered with absolute scientific accuracy, but no decision as to what is morally right is possible without science. Science alone the study of objective society above the rights of individuals.

1.—Dr. G. H. Hamilton and Kenneth MacGowan spent several thousand hours in intimate conversations on marriage problems with one hundred wives and one hundred husbands. The interviews were given privately and separately. Each husband promised to give absolutely honest answers. In reply to the question asked above seventy-two men answered positively, "Yes," nine answered negatively, "No," nineteen answered "I don't know," and eight answered "No." Seven women gave qualified answers. Since these answers were specially selected and tested as being average, normal persons, the results of this test probably represent the general run of mankind with marriage.

REGINA CENTRE OF POLITICAL ACTIVITIES

Grand Victory Parade Precedes Liberal Meeting

REGINA, June 15.—In urban and rural centres throughout Saskatchewan, political leaders, candidates and their adherents last night spent the quietest points of their platforms with general interest centered in Regina where James G. Gardiner, the Liberal chairman, addressed the voters of the capital in one of the largest rallies since 1929.

Before an audience of 4,000, with but one lone sweater-clad "heckler," Mr. Gardiner, the former premier of Saskatchewan, in an address of great force and conviction, with even a kindly word for the federal administration at Ottawa, spoke of the problems before the voters of Federal and provincial politics, and the program the Liberals would adhere to if returned to power on June 19.

CALL EARLY SESSION

It called upon to lead the next government, the Liberal leader declared he would call a session of the legislature at the earliest date possible, at which plans would be laid to re-organize the agriculture and city workers. There would be a complete re-organization of provincial financial administration, re-investment and reform, and a debt survey.

In dealing with federal issues, Mr. Gardiner declared markets must be obtained for the marketing of Saskatchewan products, the Liberal market must be maintained and routes of trade opened to assure better prices and a freer exchange of goods.

NEW STATE REQUEST

The Regina Liberal candidates, P. M. Anderson and W. F. Kerr, preceded Mr. Gardiner in the platform. Mr. Anderson spoke particularly to urban workers, declaring there must be a "new set-up" between capital and labor with the profits of their combined efforts divided fairly.

At Saskatoon, Premier J. T. M. Anderson spoke tonight while the leader of the Premier Labor party, M. J. Caldwell, was making a tour of the rural districts in a biplane, the first in a fast closing campaign.

Before the Gardiner meeting the Liberals staged a "victory parade" by having a band playing in front of a float, a two-mile procession of Liberal supporters participated in the march.

Accused Of Old Alaska Murders

"There's only one man here who looks like Blueberry Tom. And he is this man here." Pointing an accusing finger, here is the dramatic scene in a crowded New York court room as Frank Ritz Allen (right), a former police prospector, picked out the man who looked like him (Blueberry Tom) Jensen, a one-time dog-musher, wanted in Alaska for the murder of two men and a woman in 1914. Jensen left after serving a 10-day term for drunkenness because it was reported in Washington his fingerprints were the same as Blueberry Tom's.

WEEDS GREATEST MENACE SOUND FARMING H A S

WINNIPEG, June 15.—Weeds cause greater loss to Canadian agriculture than any other cause. George K. Babin, director of the Department of Agriculture informed a conference of municipal weed inspectors here yesterday.

While making no specific comparison with grasshoppers, Mr. Babin declared eradicating of weeds was paramount in the drive to build sound agriculture in the west. The conference covered loss from weeds, identification of weeds and cultural practices in weed control.

THE PHOENIX

EXPLODE BELIEF MYTHICAL DANCE

DUNDURN, Sask. June 15.—The tribal dance of the prairie chicken—story in Indian legend—is no myth, as Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan will testify.

While campaigning in the northern district during the Saskatchewan election, the premier together with Hon. Turner, government whip, and J. W. Fairley, news-editor, caught a glimpse of a prairie chicken p-w-w-f.

The dance is considered by most people to be only a myth. Just off the roadside, as the premier's party drove through the country, they saw 20 prairie chickens go through the figures supposed to be the basis of all Indian tribal dances. The feathered folk formed in 10 couples and marched up and down.

Their feet beat perfect time. They swung to the left, then to the right and went into various formations of two and four but always danced in pairs. In legend the dance is supposed to be held only when there is some on the ground.

Stowing Up Eggs

OTTAWA, June 15.—Canadians have been stowing down on their stock and commodity markets, consumption was about 20 percent less in 1933 than in 1932, slightly over 24 percent in 1932, and in 1933 less than 21 percent.

ROORBACK IS HENRY REPLY TO CHARGES

LONDON, Ont. June 15.—Denial of campaign statements that there had been a secret pact to divide profits from the construction of the Ontario parliament building was made here last night by Premier George S. Henry in a speech at the construction of the east wing of the legislative buildings. "Secret pact" statements are described as one of the "rottenest" of the election campaign. Another, he said, was the charge of an existing "rotten" system.

"When a party is barren of criticism, of policy and of suggestion," the Premier said, "it seems to what is called roorback. These items have been in their hands for months, every year. They had them during the last session and if they thought there was anything wrong with these things why weren't they brought up for investigation then? Because they dared not. There is nothing any statement made by the Liberals at the present time of any significance to the people of Ontario."

BRITAIN EXPECTED MORE DISARM AID FROM GERMANY

LONDON, June 15.—"We expect something more from Germany than she has given us," asserted Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald here last night in speech referring to European disarmament.

Great Britain, the Prime Minister said, was the only country in Europe which, if feasible broke out, would find it most difficult to meet the responsibilities she had undertaken. He said Britain would continue to strive for disarmament.

"Save Water" Signs On London Buses

LONDON, June 15.—London tube trains and buses are plastered with signs urging economy in the use of water, as no ground is seen of any material rainfall.

Some anxiety exists in several small centres where, if the dry weather continues, assistance may be sought from larger municipalities.

The London itself has about three months' supply in storage.

KIWANIS WILL OPPOSE PRIVATE PROFIT MUNITIONS

TORONTO, June 15.—Private manufacture of arms was condemned yesterday in a resolution proposed by Kewanee members and passed by delegates at the final session of the 14th annual Kewanee International convention here.

Every club present pledged itself to gather and disseminate information in order to help to end the manufacture of munitions for private profit.

The resolution read: "It has been shown that one of the leading causes of war is the private manufacture of arms for profit; therefore be it resolved that Kewanee International recommend that, by orderly process of law, control of manufacture and sale of instruments of war shall be the exclusive prerogative of the several national governments."

"And be it further resolved that each Kewanee club shall develop its own plan for the gathering and dissemination of information to accomplish this end."

Appeal Is Filed For Condemned Trapper

REGINA, June 15.—Notice of appeal has been filed by counsel for Thomas B. Kilding, moose trapper, who was sentenced to hang August 10, for the killing of his partner, Oscar Nelson.

This automatically stays the execution. The appeal asks for a new trial.

Kilding was convicted in May at Melford and sentenced by chief justice J. T. Brown.

Ground for appeal, as set out by Kilding's counsel, are that evidence against the accused was admitted when it should not have been, and that sufficient motive for the crime had not been established by the prosecution.

SENSATIONAL SEVENTH-INNING RALLY WINS FOR SHASTAS

Murdoch Squad
Beats Cubs 7-5
With Big Frame

BY BILL LEWIS

With the greatest rally that has been seen since Renfrew Park became a baseball playground, Murray Murdoch's Shaltas sent seven men across the plate in the eighth inning last night to overcome a five-run lead and mark up a 7-5 victory in the 10th game of the Amateur Baseball league battle.

Trailing by five runs when they went into their half of the eighth, the Shaltas came back to tie the champions of 1953 and counted the seven valuable markers that

The Cubs' ace twirler apparently had the Shostas' number until that disastrous inning that spelled his doom on the mound. Only 23 men were left in the game, and the inning seemed well on its way to a near-perfect performance. But then the thing smashed wide open.

With four hits and three walks charged against the deliveries of their stellar slab star, Cubs' catcher Ed Ricketts was credited with the sum total of it all as was that the cafenem not only tied up the score but added two more for good measure to win the game.

The rally gave the fans the greatest thrill they have experienced since the campaign opened this spring and they shouted themselves hoarse as they thrilled to the su-out by Willie E. by Jones I. by Guidry. The error was made by Dave McGraw, II. Error, Ricketts. Painted ball; Sillers. Lardner. Shanks 2. Cub's 7. Three of same: 1.0. Comp. John Ducey and Henry Loyer.

FIGHTERS SEE NO DIFFERENCE

LOOKED LIKE CINCH

Cubs appeared on the road to a win that would send them right near the top of the league standings. They shot ahead by 2-0 in the third inning and took a 4-0 lead in the fifth, sixth and seventh rounds, locked well on the way to triumph, carelessly when they had been holding Shastals scoresless.

Just when they seemed to have it in the bag, however, the series blew up and seven Shasta runners had scampered across the plate in the eighth. The Cubs could figure what it was all about.

Wilkie twirled extremely effective ball for Cubs until he went sky-high in the eighth. There was not the semblance of a hit made from his offerings. He wilted in the eighth, though, and the Murdocks had the winning runs across before he could do anything about it all.

GUIDOLIN HURLS WELL

"Hanger" Guilin, the Saskatchewan product who deserved a pitching win in his first start after a week ago, gave up three right handed batters for four runs, but allowed only two walks against six for the latter, and generally turned in a steady performance.

The hard hit of the Shasta pounded him on his back, head and arms, snatched at his dressing robe and pulled his hair.

"How do you feel?" shouted some one. "How do I feel?" mimicked Rector. "Billie!" (New York State, Boxing, Commissioner), he said I was out of condition."

"Primo is a good, strong fighter," father Larry Siers, that drove in the two tying runs, was one of the outstanding pitchers in the outfield. Percy Doolan, also of the winners, cracked out a three-base blow that meant one run and later scored himself, while Hess and Porter scored the two-bagger for the winners.

Umpire Gus Ducey had plenty of trouble with the players in the early stages and was forced to banish Manager Lefty Smith, of the said team. "He is as clean as they make Bess. I don't like to say I'm glad he lost but I'm sure tickled I got him out of this country. The big fellow is a real great sport and how he can take the punches!"

For the third time, this time against the Indians, Bess shouted: "Say, don't I get that beer for pay for it," he added. Handlers compromised with a glass of water.

NEW DEAL

Senators' Change Gives New Hopes To League Chiefs

By SAM ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, June 15.—A new deal was declared yesterday for the National Hockey League when the proposal to move Ottawa Senators to St. Louis, Mo., was "as good as closed."

Property was foreclosed with the Senators' removal from Ottawa where poor gates made it necessary for the league to grant certain concessions to the club.

In the new setup, decided upon at the semi-annual meeting of National Hockey League governors, professional hockey's major league will again be balanced with five teams in each division. The Senators, in their new St. Louis uniforms, will remain in the Canadian division along with Montreal Canadiens and Maroons. Toronto, Pittsburgh, Boston, Chicago, Detroit and New York Rangers will form the American wheel.

There were reports galore of player deals in the making. The luncheon table hubbub sounded like a horse auction of the pre-war era. In the end, however, the league and governors alike said "Nothing definite decided" until the negative phrase took on the monotony of a sing-song.

CHABOT IN OUT
One thing that seemed clear was that Lorne Chabot would not tend goal next winter for Detroit, as pre-meeting reports had it. Genial Lorne Adams, the Cougar manager, intimated the $10,000 Montreal Canadiens held over Chabot was definitely scored him off. He said the minor league player was full of goals material. He added there was a promising amateur prospect in Winnipeg but declined to name him because, "I can't remember the name."

The gloom which encompassed the hockey world over the tragic death of "Chuck" Gardiner at Winnipeg last night, permeated into the committee room. The board of governors sent a message of deepest condolences to the widow and family, then heard Tommy Gorman extol the sportsmanship and renowned ability of the little Canadian-Scott who played such a large part in Chicago's winning of the world title last winter.

Gorman, manager of those Chicago Hawks and now with the Montreal Forum and Maroons, presented a silver replica of the Stanley cup to the owner of the Chicago club, Major Frederic McLaughlin. He explained the very thoughtful presentation "as a fine gesture to a fine chief."

PITTSBURGH JOINS
Pittsburgh was returned to the league under the financially strong hand of James F. Callahan. The old Pittsburgh Pouters, of which he also was head, disbanded in 1927 mainly because Duquesne Gardens, their home arena, seated only 4,200 cur-

Construction of a new 10,000-arena to accommodate 14,000 would be started next week, he said. He added that he would go into the open market in search of players and a manager.

The St. Louis interests were not present at the meeting but Redmond Quain, of the Ottawa executive, announced there was no doubt the Senators would operate in this coming winter.

It was too early, Major McLaughlin pointed out, to name a successor to the late "Chuck" Gardiner. He was Joe Stark, Toronto referee who was understood to be the Winnipegger who season would be given a chance to win the regular berth.

President Frank Worrell was in the chair and was requested to draw up a 34-game schedule for the 1934-35 season, each team to play 27 games at home and the same number away, said Worrell. They played 24 and 24.

Thomas Arnold of Montreal, was elected to the board of governors and the resignation of James Stark, former head of Maroons, was gracefully accepted.

THE FORCING OVERCALL
North made an opening bid of 1-heart, third hand. East made a forcing overcall of 2-spades. South was very enough to pass. He "new" it. East had a game hand, if allowed to show his second suit, and he hoped that West would not take a fancy, having once passed. The opening lead was the king of hearts, followed by the jack. East ruffed the second lead. He took 2 diamond tricks, winning the trick in dummy, then he led dummy's top spade, overtaking with the jack and leading the ace. Dummy won the next trick by ruffing a spade.

Three rounds were taken of winning clubs, picking up all the declarer's hand and giving him a small slam.

Had West continued his bidding of diamonds he also would have made a small slam, provided he ruffed the second lead of hearts with East's ace of diamonds, in order not to block the run of that suit.

All hands do not go together with this type of forcing, any more than they do in various other instances. There are always will be missed. Had the hands of South and West been exchanged there would have been a different result.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION
Dear Mr. Shepard: May I ask a question about proper first bid on the two hands shown, with "careless" for your conclusion? (First receipt of your reply I will mail you the full hands about the last 10.)

SAFEGWAY NINE BESTS EATONS TO LEAD LOOP

Phyllis Walters Wins Mats to 13-1 With Boyle St.

Stretching their winning streak to four straight, the Safegway girls baseball nine vaulted into the leadership of the City Girls Baseball League Tuesday evening when they demolished a 13-1 victory over Lawrence Cunningham's Eaton girls in a scheduled encounter at Boyle St.

Flashing both a brilliant fielding and hitting display Safegway girls were never in better form and there was little doubt as to the outcome of the game after the first few innings. Despite the fact that the Eaton girls were a large margin the game was not as one-sided as it might appear to be and the Eaton girls, although never in the running, made a big hit with the fans for their gameness to fight to the finish.

ERRORS COSTLY
While the Safegways were at their best, the Eaton club were apparently just the opposite and gave one of their poorest exhibitions to date, regardless of the fact that they fought gamely throughout. Errors also played havoc with them and more than nine miscues were credited to the Eaton club.

To Phyllis Walters May go a lot of credit for the Safegway victory as she played a remarkable role with her smart basing performance.

It was largely due to her unselfish offerings that the departmental store girls failed to get more than one run, as she only allowed them three safe hits throughout the encounter. At that she did little or no damage. While not so retiring her opposing batters on strikes, Phyllis assisted in no less than 11 put-outs.

CUNNINGHAM CLOUTED
Margaret Cunningham, who assumed the hurling role for the Eaton club, did not receive such a pleasant reception from the Safegway sluggers and was belted around freely for an even dozen hits, three of which went for extra bases. More to her horror Margaret made several miscues, giving her chances and these contributed to the Eaton defeat.

With the opening frame the Safegways forged into the lead when they scored a pair of runs and apparently encouraged by this lead they continued to attack in every inning. Nancy Nixon had the honor of registering the first run of the game when she, after reaching first on a walk, stole second and scored home on a double by Albie Winterie.

Heaven McKelvey hit to short secret Winterie with the second inning. After being held scoreless the second the Safegways added another run to their lead in the third when "Peasants" Martin romped around the bases on steals after hitting a single in centre, scoring on McKelvey's sacrifice.

It was not until the fifth that the Eaton managers to score their first and only run. McKelvey, after reaching first on an error by Nixon, stole her way to the hot corner and scored on a sacrifice by Keeler.

Peanut In Lung Of Baby Removed
NEW YORK, June 15.—The peanut which lodged in her small lung nearly cost the life of Joyce Furman, thirteen-month-old baby, was successfully removed at the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital. Doctors David Jones and William Allen performed the operation.

Dr. Jones officially reported the baby's condition as "good."

The baby was rushed here from her Newburgh, N.Y., home, and a silver tube inserted in her throat. The tube was slightly dislodged, preventing the physicians from operating until yesterday afternoon.

A bachelor willed all his property to the three women who rejected his proposals, with the words, "To them I owe all my earthly happiness."
